FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

IPHF Selected as the 2018 Recipient of the American Society of Photographers International Award

St. Louis, MO, October 11, 2017—The International Photography Hall of Fame and Museum is proud to announce that the American Society of Photographers has selected IPHF as the recipient of the ASP International Award.

The ASP International Award is presented annually to a firm or person that the American Society of Photographers believes has contributed in a special or significant way to the ideals of professional photography as an art and a science. IPHF will be presented with the ASP International Award at the ASP Annual Awards Gala, January 15, 2018 in Nashville, TN.

Founded in 1937, the American Society of Photographers has been presenting the ASP International Award since 1982. IPHF joins several notable photographers and innovators who have been honored with this award, such as Graham Nash, Thomas Knoll, and Mathew Brady, who are also International Photography Hall of Fame inductees.

The International Photography Hall of Fame and Museum is a non-profit organization whose purpose is to celebrate the achievements of the inventors, pioneers, and pivotal artists throughout the history of photography. IPHF has preserved the art of photography and its contribution to modern civilization since 1965, and is the proud home to over 6,000 historical cameras and 30,000 images. IPHF is located in the Grand Center Arts District in St. Louis, Missouri.
